$6,000 IN REWARDS
FOR BOY KIDNAPPED
IN PHILADELPHIA

Rewards amounting to $6,000 have been offered for the recovery of Warren McCarrick, 7 years old, kidnapped from the streets of Philadelphia March 12. The police of that city have asked those of every large city in the country to look for him, but so far they have learned little.

A canvas covered wagon containing two men drove up to the sidewalk in a squalid street of the city, where a little negro and two white boys were at play. One of the white boys went off home. The driver asked the other if he would like a ride. He said yes, just as any small boy might. He was lifted up on the seat and the wagon drove off, leaving the little negro envious that he, too, had not been asked.

A friend of the McCarricks, a Philadelphia official, has offered $1,000 reward, while the city has offered $5,000.

SAY MACDONALD
MUST SERVE
TERM

Supreme Court Justices Reverse Order for New Trial in the Case

RULING IMPORTANT IN CRIMINAL CASES

Former Principal Must Stay in Prison for Mistreatment of Pupil

R. C. Macdonald is not to have a new trial. He must serve out his sentence of twenty-five years in San Quentin, unless he can secure a pardon or parole. This, in short, is the result of the decision of the Supreme Court in his case, which was taken before that court by Attorney-General Webb and District Attorney L. A. West. The highest tribunal of the state upholds the trial of the case by Judge Z. B. West of this county after the Appellate Court had entered a reversal.

Macdonald was principal of the Third Street school, and had been for three years when he was charged with the mistreatment of Helen Hamilton, aged 14. Macdonald disappeared. Several days after the warrant was issued he returned from San Francisco, walked to the jail and gave himself up.

Macdonald was defended by Attorney Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana and Attorney Epstein of San Francisco, and was prosecuted by District Attorney West and Deputy Koepsel. The case from start to finish has been the hardest fought and most strenuously contested case during the present district attorney's term. The first jury disagreed. The second brought in a verdict of guilty, and Judge West sentenced Macdonald to a term of twenty-five years in the penitentiary.

An appeal was taken to the Appellate Court in Los Angeles, and Judge West was reversed. Justice Shaw of that court placed the reversal upon the ground that Judge West had made prejudicial remarks in reprimanding Attorney Epstein and in speaking of the complaining witness. Epstein was berating the girl when Judge West called him to a halt, and in doing so the judge stated that the girl's demeanor upon the stand was modest. The Supreme Court does not agree with the Appellate Court that those remarks were of sufficient weight to have necessitated a new trial, as ordered by the Appellate Court. Judge West's handling of the hard-fought case is upheld in every particular.

This case was an important one in California criminal cases as it calls into question the real value of the amendment to the constitution by which the people of the state hoped to rid criminal trials of much of their technicality. The decision of the Appellate Court narrowed the scope of the influence of the amendment to such an extent that it might as well not have been passed. The Supreme Court puts the law on the reports nearer the way the people intended that it should be interpreted. A copy of the decision has not been received here.

About the time that the Appellate Court ordered a new trial, Mrs. Hamilton and her daughter sold their property on West Third street and moved to Colorado. Without them the chances of getting another jury to convict Macdonald would be decreased. District Attorney West, however, was confident that no new trial would be necessary, for he believed that the Supreme Court would reverse the Appellate Court. Through the attorney general's office a re-hearing was secured in the supreme court. A decision was expected last October, but for some reason it was delayed until this month.

Macdonald was sentenced on October 11, 1912, and at his own request he was taken immediately to San Quentin, that his time might be running while he was waiting for an appeal. He has now served about eighteen months. There is little question but that he will make an attempt to get a parole at the earliest moment that such an effort seems possible of being successful.

The local courthouse officials interested in handling cases are naturally much pleased with the outcome.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS AN ARMY IN ULSTER READY FOR AN UPRISING

How much the British government fears an uprising in Ulster is shown in the speed with which the London war office is rushing troops to Ulster. As shown by the above map, the government troops, numbering nearly 25,000 men, are stationed at the towns marked with a star. Belfast Lough is guarded on both sides, as that city is the center of the expected disturbance.

Two warships are already lying in the lough and more are expected to be sent there. The government has rushed reinforcements to the garrisons at Carrickfergus, Enniskillen, Belfast, Holywood, Londonderry, Dundalk, Newry and Armagh.

On the other side 500 men have been drawn from each of the Belfast volunteer regiments and are now encamped on the slopes of Cave Hill, on the north of that city; on North Colin Mountain on the west, Castlereagh Hill on the south-east, and Hollywood Hill on the east. The Hollywood encampment overlooks the Hollywood Barracks, occupied by government troops. Captain Craig is the chief of the Ulster volunteers. General Sir Arthur Paget is commander of the government forces in Ireland. His wife was Mary Stevens of New York.

FIRST CLASS OFFICE
SANTA ANA JULY 1

Receipts for the Year Ending Yesterday
Were $597.09 in Excess of the $40,000 Needed

Santa Ana will have a first class postoffice on July 1.

For the year ending yesterday, March 31, the receipts were $597.09 in excess of the $40,000 amount needed in order for the local office to enter the first class.

First class offices derive advantages from the Postoffice Department in the way of increased supplies and increased salaries for the employees. The maximum salary of the Santa Ana clerks and carriers is now $1100 per annum. By becoming a first class office the yearly salaries will be increased to $1200. This amount is likely to be increased if the postoffice appropriation bill, now pending in Congress, is passed.

The yearly receipts at the local office have shown a consistent increase during the past fifteen years.

Nine city and seven rural carriers are now employed by Postmaster Shaw. In the office there are ten clerks, in addition to the postmaster and his assistant. There are two regular city substitute carriers and five substitute clerks.

The following table will give some idea of the growth of the local office. The figures are for years ending March 31.

HOPKINS CAUGHT-- HEAVILY GUARDED

Crowd Favorable to Lynching
Tattooed Bandit Credited With Three Murders

MOUNT VERNON, Wash., April 1.

A heavy guard was thrown about the jail here today to prevent an attempt to Lynch Charles Hopkins, the "tattooed bandit" accused of three murders, who has terrorized three counties for the past week. When Hopkins saw the crowd outside he cried: "Give me a gal. All I want is an even break." No serious attempt at lynching has yet been made.

Hopkins was arrested yesterday at Van Horn by Marshal Joseph Glover and a posse.

Hopkins was asleep when caught. He stopped at the farmhouse of Frank Yeager, near Van Horn, and asked for something to eat. After he had gone Yeager notified the officers. On Hopkins' person was a .38-caliber revolver. All the cartridge balls were split four ways, apparently in order to render them more deadly.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

WILL FINISH PAVING ROAD TO NEWPORT

On April 8 Bids to Be Opened for Section from Santa Ana to Pollerino

There is every prospect that the road from Santa Ana to Newport Beach by way of South Main street will be paved by the middle of summer. Yesterday the Board of Supervisors ordered that bids for building the road from the south Santa Ana city limits to Pollerino, to join the section now under construction, be opened on April 8. The contract will be let probably on April 15, and it is hoped that the work of construction will commence by May 1. Since there is little grading to be done, there should be no delay in getting to the work of paving.

Deed is Given

C. F. Krauss, manager of the Irvine ranch, brought in a deed for the right-of-way for the Laguna Beach road through the Irvine property. Krauss asked that the county agree to move a fence where it is desired to change the location of the road. The supervisors readily agreed to the proposition.

Reward Authorized

Three bids for the construction of paved roads at Buena Park were referred to the highway commission, and will be acted upon on April 8. The board adjourned to April 7.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Advertisement.

ALASKA'S MIGHTY RIVER.

The Yukon is Navigable For a Stretch of Over 2,100 Miles.

Dismiss from your mind any notion that the Yukon river is a puny stream fed by eternal glaciers and trickling away to the sea. It is a river so mighty that it can spread out over a width of sixty miles on the Yukon flats and still have depth enough in the main channel to float heavily laden freight steamers. From its mouth (near St. Michael) at the Bering sea it is navigable all the way to White Horse, in the Yukon territory of Canada, an unbroken stretch of over 2,100 miles—two-thirds of the distance from New York to San Francisco. Add to this the navigable water of its tributaries—370 miles on the Innoko river, 320 on the Iditarod, 620 on the Koyukuk and 392 miles on the Tanana—and you will begin to have a fair idea of what a big river we have in our great empire beneath the Northern Lights.

The valley drained by this wonderful river system of the north is the hope of Alaska. The wealth of the past and of today has come from mines and fisheries, and the lifetime of all mining regions is briefer even than human life. It has been only a few years, you remember, since the Klondike was the most active mining camp in the world. Today it is a valley long since deserted by the individual miner and turned over to two big dredging companies, which work the low grade tailings. And these also must shortly pass.—Edgar Allen Forbes in Leslie's.

SKIN OF A SABLE.

It Takes Lots of Treading to Make it Soft and Fluffy.

"Otter hunts are fashionable in England," said the manicurist, "and I call that a sensible kind of hunt. Look at the otter skins the girls can collect—and other coats so fashionable now too!"

"I wouldn't mind collecting an otter coat myself. But how would you like to belong to a sable hunt, girls, and collect a sable coat?"

"A customer of mine, though, a fur dealer, told me I wouldn't know a sable if I saw one. I thought, of course, they'd be soft, fluffy little fellows, but he says they have a hide as flat as a rat's. He says that when the skins are taken from the animals they are so hard that they are placed in a tub and a barefooted man steps in and begins to tread on them to soften them. The tub is tilted so that at each step the man takes the skins slide down the slope and are kept moving. The man treads for hours and hours before any pile appears. When it begins to rise the skins are oiled and the treading begins again. This is continued until the skins are as supple as chamois and the pile has become so high that the fur has that soft depth and beautiful rich gloss which we see in Fifth avenue."

"I always thought a sable was a pretty creature, with fluffy fur like a kitten, didn't you?"—New York Tribune.

A Way to Distinguish Twins.

Twain brothers who have been called up for service in a Paris regiment are so alike that it is impossible to distinguish between them. The other day one was confined to barracks, and by changing his cap, with its regimental number, for that of his brother he was able to pass the guard whenever he wished to go out. The colonel has now issued the following order to obviate such tricks: "The soldier bouhomme (even number) will wear his hair as long as the regulations, construed with the utmost leniency, will allow and will shave his beard and mustache. The soldier bouhomme (odd number) will allow his beard and mustache to grow full and will have his hair regularly cut as closely as possible by the regimental barber."—London Mail.

THE COST OF IDLE OR HALF-WORKED PLANTS

One of the strong points made by modern systems of efficiency is that no business plant will be a success unless it is kept running somewhere near its top capacity.

Many manufacturers, for instance, will recall how in former days they gave comparatively little thought to this idea. There was little effort to systematize mill production down to a regular basis. If there was a period of weeks when production fell off it attracted little notice.

Modern scientific efficiency analyzes production costs more carefully. It shows how when production falls below a normal level even for a day there is a heavier burden to be added to each article produced, as "overhead charge," and for all labor costs based on work by the hour, day, or week.

One reason why newspaper advertising has grown very fast during recent years is that retail merchants understand how this principle applies to their business. In former days when a merchant fitted out his store, hired his clerks and sat down to wait in a passive fashion for business he was very apt to find that he did not do an amount of trade that was normal, either for the capital invested in equipment and stock, or for the cost of his help. The result was that the proportion of failures among retail merchants used to be abnormally large. There is rarely any money in a store that does not have the appearance of being busy.

It is not a difficult thing to turn the current of trade in any given direction. It is not hard to convert an idle or half worked and unprofitable retail plant into a busy and profitable one. If the stock is well chosen and offered at fair prices, the public can always be interested in it. It is simply a question of taking in detail the various attractive features of the stock, and talking about them through the newspaper.

STATE JOBS

The announcement made recently that the State of California needs more draftsmen for its engineering and other departments and will submit to examination all who apply is another reminder of the different way that state business is conducted now from what it was a few years ago. Then all positions were political. Now all the work of the state except the higher positions which call for discretionary relations with the heads of departments are on a strict civil service merit basis. Then a political machine could be built out of the money of the state. Now the only way that a political machine can be constructed is through the interest of those taking part in it, submitting whatever ambitions they have for a draft on the state treasury to the people first at the primaries and then at the general elections, with a recall always as a potential check against bad conduct.

Another feature of this announcement of the state civil service examinations is the test to be had for engineers and firemen for the Belt Line Railroad, which is now in charge of the State Harbor Commission at San Francisco, and is virtually a state-owned and managed railroad. It was once the great fear of public ownership of utilities that they would result in the creation of a vast political machine, the political administration being able through its domination of the thousands of employees of the state utilities to control elections. The work of the present state administration in liberating the San Francisco harbor from all power of danger of political manipulation, through the civil service act, has shown how needless this fear was. With engineers and firemen and other employees winning their positions on merit and removable only through shown demerit, they have no need to vote for any man for office unless they have individual reason to think he is the best man for the place, without reference to their tenure of their own jobs.—Fresno Republican.

JAMES IRVINE STATES HIS POSITION AS TO THE RIGHT OF WAY ACROSS HIS RANCH

The following communication is self-explanatory in all respects except as to the Register's relation to the matter under consideration. The Register merely reported (accurately, we think) a public official discussion of the question as to right of way across the Irvine Ranch for the State Highway. If what was said in this discussion as to the respective attitudes of the state and of Mr. Irvine put the latter in the light of "holding up this work" it is not the fault of the Register. We are pleased to be informed of Mr. Irvine's position and to publish his views.

Mr. Irvine's Letter
San Francisco, March 30, 1914.
Santa Ana Daily Register,
Santa Ana, Calif.

Gentlemen:
A clipping was sent to me of an article which recently appeared in your paper, referring to the State Highway which is to go through the ranch.

The sense conveyed in the article, gave an impression, to one not familiar with the facts, that we were holding up this work. If you are not familiar with the facts, I wish to state that this is not the case.

The road through the ranch, proposed to be improved by the State Highway, has long been deeded to the county. We have recently deeded other roads to the county with certain reservations which are entirely acceptable to it, and which the county is improving and to improve under the recent bond issue.

The State Highway Commission, in my opinion, is taking a very arbitrary view of the situation, and one which, if carried out, would deprive both the county and ourselves of many of the uses of the highway usually enjoyed by the county and the abutting land owners.

The road in question was deeded to the county, free of any expense, and certain reservations for its use were made, which in themselves would not conflict or interfere with the use of the road as used by the ordinary mode and means of travel.

The state is now demanding an absolute fee, or its equivalent, to this road, and attempting to place it in such a position that if the county should wish to cross the road, or use its outside lines for pole or pipe-line purposes, or if we should find it necessary at some future time, or at any time, to cross the road with pipe lines or power lines, or to run along its outside limits with the same—which uses in themselves would not interfere with the track of the road—we would be compelled to seek a franchise from the state.

The main road, cutting the ranch diagonally as it does for nine miles, will of necessity have to be crossed many times by pipe-lines, if the land is ever to be irrigated, and each time this might be necessary, a franchise would have to be asked of the state.

The district attorney's office and the supervisors, so far as I know, are perfectly satisfied with the agreement we came to regarding road rights of way and reservations, and I believe from the county's standpoint, it would be a mistake for them to give up all control of the road to the state.

The state is asking all it could possibly obtain if it had a fee to the road, and we feel that if we are compelled to abandon all easements in the road, as abutting property owners, and are put in the position of having to apply for a state franchise whenever we come in contact with the road in any line of development, the only thing left is for us to let the state or county condemn the property and pay us the full value of the land.

It is a rather peculiar position; the state is asking something which no one else wants but itself, but it wants the county to pay for it.

This is somewhat in keeping with my experience with the good farmer who always wants a new road, but wants it just over the line, on the other fellow.

I trust the above explanation will at least put you right as to conditions. I certainly have no desire to hold up or retard the development of the State Highway, but there are generally two sides to most questions.

Yours very truly,
JAMES IRVINE.

Redfield Talks On Commerce

(From the Los Angeles Financial News)

"How to Build Up Foreign Commerce" was the topic chosen by Secretary of Commerce Redfield, who was a Los Angeles visitor this week, and who spoke as a business man in Blanchard Hall Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. He spoke in part as follows:

"The great Pacific Coast has never had its share of this world's business. There is no reason why some of the great wealth of the Orient and of South America should not flow into the coffers of California. The greatest buying power in the world, for the things they use, lies in the empire of China, with its 400,000,000 of population. You have the brains, you have the means, and you have the opportunity, lie on the Pacific Coast to gain a footing in these great markets. The door is open for a business, which, commencing slowly, shall grow enormously. The Department of Commerce is ready actively to assist, to furnish particular information and its men, under certain conditions, to make investigations and report to your Chamber of Commerce, and to arrange that United States consuls and travelers who return to this country shall come to this city and meet your Chamber of Commerce to supply it with information of value."

"The first requisites for a foreign trade are courage and faith. Courage is needed to overcome obstacles and to face without fear conditions which may at times in certain respects seem adverse. Faith is requisite in one's own goods and in his ability to present them so far better to meet his views. The business should be made to run with as few uncertainties as possible between the American seller and the foreign buyer."

"One sound rule in getting a foreign trade and in keeping it has been repeated so often as perhaps to be wearying and yet its lesson has not been fully learned everywhere. It is this: Do not offer the foreign buyer what you want to sell so much as what he wants to buy. The foreign field is not a dumping ground and if it is made such the business will not last. A very weak spot in our foreign trade is our unwillingness to give the credit which the foreign buyer expects and which our competitors offer. True, there are foreign houses having their own offices in American cities who may prefer to buy cash against the documents because they can buy more closely in that way, and American houses who have become experienced in foreign trade do extend reasonable credits."

"The concerns with which it has been my privilege to be associated in past years have sold certain carefully selected goods in the Orient and in Europe, and they did not without loss. In discussing this, however, do not forget that our foreign competition advantage over us, soon, we hope, to pass away. In the presence of great banks all over the world to assist them in their collections, and whose services cannot be given to us with the same enthusiasm as to their own nationals. We hope under the new currency law, and indeed it is distinctly prophesied by well-known financial men, that in two years or so we shall have American banks abroad proffering to all American merchant and manufacturers in the extension of their foreign trade."

"The American manufacturer in the foreign fields meets serious obstacles. The people to whom he is trying to sell have their own ideas. To be candid, it is useless to attempt to overcome these. If the export trade is to be considered as a 'flier,' meaning a pleasant addition to our business at home when the latter is dull, only to be forgotten when things are more active here, it must not be forgotten, too, that the enormous investments of foreign countries in various lands to whom we would like to sell all over the world form an important obstacle. For example, Great Britain has $20,000,000,000 invested all over the world. It is natural that the enormous influence of these vast investments should be exerted in favor of the country whence the money came. The same is true in a lesser degree of Germany and of France."

"Despite these obstacles it is encouraging, indeed inspiring, to see our American trade has grown abroad. Our foreign trade was never as large as in the last two years. Our manufactured goods are about 60 per cent, and out of this item fully finished manufactures are the larger part. We have faced the obstacles, we have met the industrial competitor on his own field, and we have won the fight. Our manufactures have gone abroad of late at the approximate average rate of $5,000,000 daily. So the future is bright, and particularly so as we estimate the obstacles clearly and face them intelligently and with courage. There is one enormous advantage in the foreign markets. This is that they are much less likely to be upset by sudden fluctuations than our own. The market of the whole world is a steadier field than the market of any one country, and when things are dull here they may be active yonder. Australia may be busy when California is dull, and China may afford a good market when the New England factories are running short time. Furthermore, our foreign trade must always be considered as part of our domestic trade, for the obvious reason that one cannot fill in his American factory a foreign order without placing domestic ones for the machinery, the materials, and what not to fill it. Consequently a foreign order is reflected directly upon our domestic business."

"Nor should we be discouraged by what we are told about difference in prices. Frequently our prices are as low, if not lower, than those which are quoted against us, and frequently also price is not the controlling factor. If the foreigner gets what he wants in the way he wants it, he is quite as apt as you and I to pay the price that is asked for it, if it is reasonable. Quality, style, quickness of delivery, reasonableness of terms, these and many other considerations enter into the element of competition. The man who attempts to compete solely on price is very apt to be playing the short distance business and will be beaten out in the long run by him who patiently develops a market based upon quality. The latter will have need of patience, but, like the tortoise, he will in time outrun the hare."

Wednesday Secretary Redfield visited the citrus belt; Thursday he was guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Pasadena Board of Trade and in the evening he spoke at the annual educational banquet of Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. Yesterday he was taken on an inspection trip to the harbor and last night he left for San Francisco. He will deliver an address Monday, Charter Day, at the University of California on "The Larger Outlook."

necheon. Santa Ana women can judge for themselves just how good a cook Miss Peet is, and whether or not they want to adopt her methods and use her recipes. Each afternoon Miss Peet will give two especially fine recipes to all to come before 2:30, the hour for opening of the cooking school. She will also give to every one who attends the school a number of her recipes, which have been compiled in book form, and will furnish her recipes to be published in the sister each day. Miss Peet's recipes are scientifically made, and untried, and if followed untriedly and accurately, good results are assured.

Believes in Simple Menus
Miss Peet believes in plenty of wholesome, nutritious, well prepared food, which will build up the body and strengthen the mind. She also believes in simple well balanced menus, says that with a knowledge of values, the planning and execution of such menus is a pleasure to housewife, and the result is a healthy one from more than one point of view. It insures the health of the family, reduces the expenses, lightens the housekeeper's labor. About Miss Peet and the Register Cooking School will be published tomorrow.

PAVED ROAD ORANGE TO THE COUNTY SEAT

Orange News: The paved road between Orange and Santa Ana, which, completed with the exception of a surface course and for some ready for traffic except for the dirt that obstructed it, has finally cleared and now offers a driving road for travelers between the two cities.

Long hoped-for connecting link between the two chief cities of Orange county is now a fact. Joy to the automobile public. The road, especially portion of it on Main street, is very heavy traffic and it is for the state highway commission will carry out its announced plan of making a shoulder two feet wide on each side. The turn of Main street to Chapman avenue is by an easy curve and is an improvement over the turn of Main road.

Most undesirable feature of the stretch of paving between Orange and Santa Ana lies within the limits of Santa Ana—between the Santiago Creek bridge and the Southern Pacific railroad. Section of paving, which was laid without a concrete base, is comparatively new, is buckling under traffic and presents only rough spot on the road between Orange and Santa Ana via West Chapman avenue. Work as work is being done on the sides of the West Chapman road.

BOEGE CANDIDATE AND THE ONLY ONE

ANAHEIM, April 1.—Charles Boege is the only candidate in the field to be elected to fill the vacancy in the grammar school board of trustee, so in all probability he will succeed himself for that office.

An important question which will come up at the election to be held April 3 is the proposed issuance of $15,000 in bonds to be used in adding four school rooms to the Broadway school building and in the general improvement of the grounds.

This improvement met with the approval of the members of the Board of Trade and received their full endorsement at a recent meeting, as they hope to have a kindergarten branch established in the schools before the opening of another term, and have appointed a committee to present a signed petition asking for same to the school board.

CALIFORNIA HAS BIGGEST INCREASE IN STOCK IN WEST

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—A bulletin just issued by the Department of Agriculture shows a greater increase in livestock in this state during the past three years than in any other commonwealth west of the state of Missouri.

In 1913 the livestock census was 1,664,000 cattle; 563,000 horses and 2,603,000 sheep. These figures show an actual increase over those of 1910 of 392,000 cattle, 83,000 horses and 231,000 sheep. Most of California's livestock is pastured in the southern part of the state.

Notice to Our Customers!

ON APRIL 1ST, 1914, THREE IMPORTANT CHANGES IN OUR BUSINESS SYSTEM WILL GO INTO EFFECT, AS FOLLOWS: NO MORE SOLICITING—FREE DELIVERY RESTRICTED TO CERTAIN HOURS—A MORE STRICT CREDIT SYSTEM.

NO SOLICITORS—The custom of sending out men to take orders, has become one of the big items of expense in our business and in future no solicitors will be sent out.

FREE DELIVERY—Heretofore we have made deliveries large and small at all hours. In future all orders received before 10 a. m. will be delivered before noon, and all orders received after 10 a. m. will be held for the afternoon delivery. All orders received after 4 p. m. will be held for the next morning delivery.

CREDIT—Hereafter all monthly accounts must be paid promptly on the first of each month. Five days grace will be given in which to make settlement, but after that no further extension of credit will be made.

The expense of soliciting, extra delivering and losses from bad accounts, which we expect to eliminate by this change of system, will be of benefit to our customers as well as ourselves, inasmuch as it will enable us to sell goods at lower prices.

The high quality of our goods will be maintained, but by these changes we can sell many lines at much lower prices.

THE NEW SUGAR BEET

A South Dakota Kind That is a Quarter Sweetness

By George A. Starring, in the Country Gentleman.

If recent tests at the South Dakota State College and Experiment Station are prophetic the day is not far distant when the prairie states will be known by their sugar production rather than by their broad acres of wheat and occasional crop failures. After a quarter of a century of patient breeding and testing of every known variety the South Dakota experts believe they have finally produced a strain of sugar beets that will yield 25 per cent of their weight in saccharine matter. South Dakota makes a modest bow and claims the world's record for growing concentrated sweetness. A recital of this attainment should be worthy of interest.

In the early eighties, when the Dakotas were still one territory, the soil possibilities of this great district were unknown. In order to ascertain what crops could be profitably grown, the experiment station at Brookings undertook an extensive series of experiments with numerous crops. Prof. James H. Shepard, chemist of the South Dakota Agricultural College and Experiment Station, chose sugar-beet culture as his pet hobby. He believed that beets could be bred up as a sure crop under all conditions of Dakota climate, and with a high sugar content.

In the first place he wanted pure seed. But away back in 1888 there was considerable lack of knowledge in America concerning beet culture—and, in truth, hardly any one knew where good seed might be obtained at any cost. The shipments of seed in the earliest tests proved to be merely a species of mangel with a sugar content under 10 per cent. He was unable to secure genuine seed before 1891. The crop of that year produced eight tons of beets an acre, with a sugar content ranging from 13 to 17 per cent. The average sugar content of German beet crops was at that time reported to be 14 per cent. Beets must uniformly average 12 per cent sugar to be a profitable commercial crop.

For several years the entire state of South Dakota was tested in sugar-beet growing—in 1897 seed being sent to nine hundred and fifty-four farmers in fifty-nine counties. This particular experiment demonstrated that Shepard's improved beets would yield heavily over the entire state, and with a uniformly high sugar percentage. The average sugar content had by this time been increased to 15 per cent, with a yield of over twenty tons to the acre. Many selected beets tested a sugar content of more than 20 per cent. These were preserved as "mothers" for growing seed another season.

In 1897, 1898 and 1907 to 1911 inclusive, the United States Department of Agriculture co-operated with the South Dakota Experiment Station, and at different times Dr. C. O. Townsend and Prof. F. A. Pritchard were detailed to work with Professor Shepard in making some special experiments. The suggestions received from these experts of the department encouraged Professor Shepard in further efforts.

In 1912 the work was again continued independently of federal co-operation. Tests were now undertaken to produce sugar-beet seed on a commercial basis—for what good was a high per cent beet if it remained merely a laboratory product? It must be commercialized and given to the people. The beets of the 1912 season yielded as high as twenty-four tons to the acre with a sugar content of 25.4 per cent. They grew uniformly and true to type, and good for an average of 20 per cent sugar. Professor Shepard believes that he has now grown enough "mother" beets to put the sugar-beet business on a safe commercial basis.

in South Dakota in two years.

One who is unfamiliar with the care and patience necessary in such work has no conception of what the results mean. Much might be related of how Professor Shepard rejected as high as 90 per cent of tested beets each year, and at the same time gradually lessened the percentage of the unfit; how he replanted "mother" beets, safeguarded them from cross-breeding with inferior strains, and harvested their seed; how he repeated the cycle during another two seasons; and how he improved the varieties so that it was necessary to reject but 10 per cent in 1912. This extreme care was necessary because he had learned that there were in the whole country no pure strains of seed among the individuals of any variety which would give uniform percentages of sugar.

Summarized briefly, the work of the South Dakota Experiment Station has developed a sugar beet yielding from one-fifth to one-fourth its weight in sugar and more than twenty tons to the acre—without irrigation and without artificial fertilization. In order to produce an equal value of wheat the Dakota farmer would have to coax his land to yield the impossible crop of 140 bushels to the acre. The 1912 beet crop of the South Dakota State College Experiment Station ran so uniformly and true to type that the rejected beet averaged a higher analysis of sugar than that reported for the regular commercial beet crop of the United States. The average tonnage in the United States in a recent report was less than eleven tons an acre, with a sugar content under 16 per cent. Furthermore no Dakota experimental beet crop has ever failed.

South Dakota farmers are now awaiting the factories which are planned at various convenient shipping centers. They feel confident that sugar-beet raising should do for their state what it has done for other states. If beet raising made the soils of Germany so productive why not obtain the same result in South Dakota? The beet is a subsoiler by nature. The South Dakota experimenters dug around and under an exceptionally healthy beet and found roots eight feet below the surface.

Visions of new wealth and prosperity to Dakotans now appear in the prospects for added population in laborers, increased soil fertility, increased feeding of stock with waste products from beet sugar mills, profitable by-products as well as sugar production, beet-seed raising, and last but not least an increase in the price of land.

POLO 'CHAMPS' START PRACTICE

NEW YORK, April 1.—Real work of candidates for the team which will defend the international cup against the invading British polo cracks started today at the Georgian Court fields at Lakewood. Captain James M. (Monte) Waterbury, associated with international polo as a player since the American four were defeated by England in 1902, was in charge of the candidates today. Monte Waterbury was a member of the American Big Four which defeated England for the world's championship and the international cup in 1909. Larry Fitzpatrick, who has prepared the ponies of the American four since 1909, again this year is in charge of that important task.

Los Angeles Produce Market

Hawaii has again come to the rescue with onions and the quotations on Bermudas dropped 50 cents yesterday owing to the size of receipts from the islands. In addition, a large number of crates of crystal white, a very fancy onion were shipped in and sold at the former quotation on Bermudas, $3.25 per crate. A heavy shipment of pineapples was also reported in. These continued to sell at 7 cents a pound.

Several surprises awaited vegetable buyers in the morning. Asparagus instead of going down as anticipated, increased in value, white selling from 7 to 9 cents and green as high as 12 cents for fancy quality. String beans also went up, selling from 9 to 12 and peas jumped up a cent, bringing 7 on local and 9 on fancy northern telephone peas. Some green top celery is arriving and is selling at 50 cents a dozen against 85 cents for the golden top. The latter is very scarce.

The egg demand was fair and the market declined to 21 cents on heavy receipts from the north. The quotation on eggs in the north is 19½c. Butter receipts were 4,840 pounds. The demand was very favorable on this stock and the market remained steady with advices of a 23-cent market in the north.

Social and Club Circles

THEIR SOCIAL TUESDAY

Members of Woman's Club Enjoyed Afternoon With Readings and Music

As a result of the clever and agreeable custom of the Woman's Club of socially appropriating the fifth Tuesday of each month that is obliging enough to yield that number of Tuesdays, the women of that club had a really delightful social time yesterday afternoon. Business was practically thrown to the winds and entertainment only was in order. The ladies met at the home of Mrs. Anna Gale at her Spurgeon street home, and in the absence of the president, Mrs. Utley, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Mills presided. Mrs. Mills took the opportunity before the opening of the program to thank the ladies for remembering her birthday with the gift of a book of poems, "A Batch of Blue," prettily written by a resident of Santa Ana. Mrs. Mills read one of the poems, very appropriate to the occasion, to the club.

Mrs. Flora M. Pyle then gave the history of St. Patrick as she was not present at the last meeting. As Wednesday is April 1, Mrs. Pyle gave the ladies a new recipe called "Tango Chicken," as follows: "Lots of white meat with very little dressing." Mrs. C. F. and W. H. Crose rendered a fine duet, "Swallows of the Spring," and responded to an encore with "Little Boy Blue." By request Mrs. W. H. Crose sang "My Josephine." The program committee, with Mrs. Dell Anderson as chairman, presented the subjects for the approval of the club, which was accepted with few changes. At the close of the afternoon the hostess served cocoa, tea, cakes and sandwiches. She was assisted by Mesdames Ey and Diers. Large bouquets of nasturtiums and heliotrope adorned the rooms, and the large number of women present enjoyed the fine meeting.

Amphion Circle to Meet

The members of the Amphion Circle of the First Congregational Church will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Miss Lippitt, 301 East Sixteenth street. All members are invited and urged to be present.

Several Orange Delicacies

Menu cards, daintily illustrated with views of lovely orange groves of Golden California, were used in the dining cars of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad on Orange Day, recently celebrated. Inviting concoctions made from oranges formed an attractive feature of the menu and included sliced oranges, orange fritters with golden sauce, orange celery salad, orange pudding, orange marmalade, orange ice cream and orange cake.

Piano Pupils' Recital

Miss Virginia Johnston will present her piano pupils in recital at her studio, 117 1/2 East Fourth street, Thursday, April 2, at 4 p.m. Friends and parents are invited to be present.

Delegates to San Diego

The Woman's Presbyterian Missionary Society of the Los Angeles Presbytery of the United Presbyterian church, will hold its annual meeting in San Diego, beginning this afternoon and running through tomorrow night. The delegates will be given an automobile ride this afternoon.

Those going from Santa Ana this morning were Mrs. J. G. Kennedy and Mrs. M. M. Tidball as delegates; Miss Sarah Finley as secretary of the Presbyterian Society; Mrs. D. L. Anderson, Mrs. Steele Finley; the Misses Adda and Minnie Cowan; Mrs. Stewart and daughter, Miss Stewart.

Popular People Leave

C. O. Porter, manager of the local Western Union Telegraph office, has been transferred to Santa Barbara, for which place he is expected to leave today, accompanied by his wife and little son and Miss Grace Jones, who has been stenographer in the Western Union office during Mr. Porter's management. The departure of these well-known people from Santa Ana will be regretted as they have made many friends in a social way in the office. The transfer to Santa Barbara is in the way of promotion for Mr. Porter, as he has a more responsible position with an increase of salary as well as better working conditions. Mr. Porter's successor here is T. S. Ferrell, and Miss Jones will be succeeded by Miss Mary Hanson.

At Spurgeon School

Practically all of the first part of the yesterday afternoon's session of the meeting of the Spurgeon School Parent-Teacher Association was devoted to business. Among the items of business was the nominating of officers of the association to be voted on at the May meeting. Another matter of interest was a discussion of the play, "The Peek Sisters," to be given during the summer vacation.

Following the business session, a social hour was spent during which the hostesses served delicious salads, sandwiches and coffee. There was a very fine attendance of mothers.

A Hawaiian Afternoon

Mrs. Charles F. Heil, who with her husband and little daughter Helen have just returned from a trip to Honolulu, delightfully entertained the Inter Se members yesterday afternoon at her home on F street.

The afternoon was spent in social conversation, many interesting incidents of the Hawaiian trip being recounted by the hostess. During the Heils' stay on the island, Mrs. Gertrude Finley, Miss Crookshank and Miss Cotter arrived and the Santa Anans went about together.

At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Heil invited her guests to the dining room where dainty refreshments were served. The yellow color scheme was most artistically carried out in the large centerpiece of yellow poppies and the festoons of yellow leis (pronounced lays) lying upon the white cloth. The service was suggestive of the island, creamed shrimp, fruitade, and sliced pineapples and cake sprinkled with coconut from Hawaii, being used. The places at the table were found by dainty little kodak place cards, views from the islands. On each chair was a yellow lei that Mrs. Heil, in anticipation of the afternoon, had brought from the island. Leis were also festooned about the walls of the dining room, and the red, white and blue ones that had been placed about the necks of Mr. and Mrs. Heil and little Miss Helen by Mrs. Finley, Miss Crookshank and Miss Cotter as the Heils left them to sail for the homeland, particularly interested the company.

Those enjoying this unique social afternoon were Mesdames E. S. Wallace, W. H. Bullard, George S. Smith, A. J. Crookshank, Earl Glenn, Warren Brakeman, Misses Mary Cotter and Margaret Ore.

Federation Women Meet

The meeting yesterday in Santa Ana of representatives of the executive board and presidents' council of the southern district of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, was decidedly successful in every way with the possible exception of attendance.

The business meeting was preceded by an elegantly appointed noon luncheon at Taylor's, where tables were set in the "gold room." Pink and green were the tints of a color scheme developed in pink roses and ferns. The tables were centered with large bouquets and in the beautiful stained window at the rear of the room was a basket of lovely Duchess roses and asparagus ferns. An elaborate menu was served.

At the table were the following ladies: Mrs. Lillian Pray Palmer, retiring district president, and Mrs. Geo. Butler of San Diego; Mrs. Henry De Nyse of Riverside; Mrs. S. L. Beller of Riverside; Mrs. F. C. Martin and Mrs. K. R. Smart of Beaumont; Mrs. F. T. Willis of Colton and Mrs. T. C. Jameson of Corona; Mrs. E. L. Quinn, of Los Angeles; Mrs. George Kellogg, president of Newport; Mrs. Arkley, Garden Grove; Mrs. Flora M. Pyle of Westminster; Mrs. G. W. Sherwood, of Fullerton; Mesdames W. L. Deimling, W. L. Grubb, C. F. Crose, Roberts, A. J. Lawton of Santa Ana.

Following the luncheon, the ladies repaired to the parlor of the Armory, properly decorated for the occasion, where a business meeting was held. Amendments and other business to be considered at the Riverside convention of the State Club Federation, were discussed, and reports of departments were heard. Of the presidents' council reports, eight were delivered personally by the presidents, the others being sent in. The local presidents giving reports were Mrs. A. J. Lawton of Santa Ana Valley; Mrs. B. Utley, Santa Ana Woman's Club; Mrs. Lipton, Anaheim; Mrs. Sherwood, Fullerton Woman's Club; Mrs. Kellogg, Newport; Mrs. Arkley, Garden Grove Tuesday Afternoon Club.

The German Club

The German Club of the High School was entertained last evening by the class teacher, Miss Henry.

Woodmen Were Hosts

The entertainment given last night by the local camp of the Woodmen of the World at Moose Hall was largely attended by the guests of honor, over 200 members of Sedgwick Post; Sedgwick W. R. C.; Shiloh Circle Ladies of the G. A. R.; and Daughters of Veterans being present. The guests were enthusiastic over the excellence of the literary and musical program of which the leading features were "The Tramp Blacksmith," given by Gordon Gould and company, and "An Appeal to the Governor," by Messrs. W. G. Gould, C. S. Shaw, Miss Blanche Irvine and Frank Wood. The latter was beautifully staged and was pronounced as very effective.

The "boys in blue" of the G. A. R. and the members of the auxiliary societies expressed their delight and gratitude of the splendid entertainment tendered them by the Woodmen.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Lyric

"The Honeymooners" is being presented to the lovers of beautiful photo plays this afternoon and will be shown tonight, with Florence Lawrence, the Maude Adams of the screen, in a very beautiful two-part drama, at the Lyric.

You will find great amusement and take much interest in the story for its humanness and its humor. The appeal of the piece is big and broad.

A dandy comedy, featuring Bob Leonard in the "Boob's Honeymoon," is certainly a scream. Another reel, entitled "Valentine Day," goes to make up an excellent program.

CITRUS LAND CLOSE TO TOWN

$185 an Acre; Easy Terms—
Views of the Valley
All Week

We have for sale some 6500 acres that lies all around the town of Escondido. All tracts have beautiful building sites, deep granite soil and easy to work. A town of 2500 people, nice churches, stores, four banks, fine high school, Mutual Water Co. on the Santa Fe R.R., 67 carloads of citrus fruits have been shipped this season. Over 50,000 young trees have been set out in the Valley and the company has several thousand apple trees in the nursery for 1915 planting. The prize vineyard of the United States is at Escondido. This vineyard took three gold medals at three world's fairs, and has never been watered, and produces from eight to fourteen tons to the acre. Of delicious Muscatel grapes we have planted and sold over 1000 acres.

We are showing every evening at the Rossmore Hotel moving pictures of the valley. Come and spend an evening and see for yourself what a beautiful valley we have. It's free and so is our beautiful illustrated booklet.

We will be here all week and if you can't get down to the hotel in the evening, call up and we will run out to your ranch or home.

Compare this planted price with any raw land around here. Our three-year planting proposition includes choice of land, trees, water stock, water rentals. NO TAXES, NO INTEREST. All concrete and steel casings; pruning, cultivating and care. Nice roads.

For term of three years. Every tree guaranteed to be alive and healthy at end of that term.

This is cheaper than you can buy raw land around this or other good fruit districts in Southern California.

CITRUS: $750.00 an acre and $7.50 an acre a month.

APPLES: $450.00 and $4.50 an acre a month.

GRAPES: $225.00 an acre and $2.50 an acre a month.

Three years' care, and right in an old fruit district. Can you beat it? YOU CAN'T.

So come over to the Hotel Rossmore and arrange to meet Mr. Alexander or Mr. Clark, from Escondido, and if you are interested in getting some good fruit land reasonable, we will take you down and prove our statements.

PROF. HARRY T. PECK, WHO SHOT HIMSELF

Professor Harry Thurston Peck, once in charge of the Latin chair at Columbia University in New York, and a noted literary critic for years, shot himself to death in Stamford, Conn., the other day as the direct, though distant, result of a breach of promise case brought against him by his former stenographer, Esther Quinn. She tried to recover $50,000 from him, but as he didn't have that sum of money she did not get it.

Following the notoriety over the suit Professor Peck lost his position in Columbia, and he did not seem able to withstand the blow. Later his mind became disordered, and when he was found in poverty his former wife came to his aid. For some years she paid his expenses. It was believed that her decision to do so no longer was the immediate cause of his suicide. He was practically without means when he killed himself in Stamford.

ANOTHER CABINET CHAUTALKER
WASHINGTON, April 1.—It's getting so that being a "chautalker" and cabinet member isn't worthy of more than passing note. Here comes another cabinet member, who wishes to do "the two-a-day." His name is William Bauchop Wilson and he holds the labor portfolio in the Wilson cabinet.

The Pennsylvania Chautauqua circuit today announced that Secretary Wilson and Gifford Pinchot will be attractions on the April and May circuit—to say nothing about the Alpine yodelers, Romani the prince of jugglers, and "that Harmony Four," colored singers from Tuskegee.

Merchants' Luncheon Proves Successful Affair

The Merchants & Manufacturers' Association today successfully inaugurated its monthly luncheons. In point of attendance and interest, the luncheon was even more successful than the hastling board of directors had expected, and there is every reason to believe that the occasional gatherings of the business men at the noon-day meal will develop into a permanent and profitable institution.

Luncheon was served in the balcony of Taylor Brothers with fifty merchants attending and Secretary J. C. Metzgar and the directors in charge of the affair. Each person ordered and paid for his own luncheon. It is the intention of the association to hold the luncheons about once a month, and at each one have a speaker to talk while the merchants eat.

Today's speaker was Postmaster L. L. Shaw, who opened his remarks by reporting that Santa Ana's postal receipts for the last year entitles it to classification as a first-class postoffice.

"Advertising" was Mr. Shaw's subject. "There is a rule of the association that is meant to work out so that only legitimate advertising will be used," said he. "It is very easy to spend a lot of money and get no results, especially if a person uses other than good standard methods. The best standard form of advertising is undoubtedly the newspaper. No other single method can compare with a good newspaper. Of course, you can waste money by injudicious newspaper advertising, but there is no question but that fresh, up-to-date, speedy ads bring good results."

"Among other mediums are those that reach the buyer personally. For example, notice the enormous business being done by some mail order houses."

"I am convinced that the Santa Ana merchants are neglecting their opportunities of getting trade through the rural routes and parcel post. Santa Ana has seven rural routes that cover twenty-five miles daily, with an average of 150 families on each route. There are twenty-one rural routes in the county. The rates for parcel post deliveries are low, probably less per pound than it costs many of the Santa Ana merchants to make their deliveries in Santa Ana. It ought not to be difficult for you to secure a good mailing list for use by your members. You ought to take all necessary steps to increase your country trade. At present we have no produce house ready to handle farm products in the quantities most suitable to farmers. I think a public market should be started. Suppose the City Trustees were asked to set apart Sixth street, between Sycamore and Broadway, as a public market? From that, I believe the market would grow into a popular and successful institution."

"I believe a Bargain Day would work out to great advantage. People are interested in bargains, and no doubt about it. You can afford sometimes to sell an article at actual cost if thereby you gain the trade of a man or woman. We might have a Bargain Day once a month, with a hand concert, free tickets to the moving picture shows, a ball game, or something of that kind to attract the people. In every possible way we should make it a point to establish a friendship with the country people. It takes a country trade to build up a big store. I have said that the best standard of advertising medium is the newspaper. Of that I need talk no further, as you know as much about that as I do."

Secretary Metzgar gave a short talk in which he urged the members to co-operate with him in working out the plans of the association to prevent advertising fakes from getting a foothold and in bettering the association's protective system of credit. He said that he thought the mail order plan for Santa Ana merchants would be worked out in the next few months.

BRUCE HOOD,
Santa Ana Agent, Lacey House.

Yesterday County Assessor Sleeper was in the Trabuco and Gubernadora canyons looking over the barley that he and his partner, Waller, have planted. In the latter canyon about 500 acres of land is this year planted to its first crop. A year ago it was covered with cactus and brush.

There is not a finer field of barley in California than that on the mesa, planted last November on land that had been summer fallowed. The grain that was put in first is three and a half feet high, and with the late rains it will fill out unusually heavy. Sleeper and Waller have 2800 acres planted and about 700 acres plowed up for a season's rest. They lease from Jerome O'Neil.

THREE STORY IS TO BE BUILT, ALSO SOME BUNGALOWS

BUENA PARK, April 1.—Groume was broken and construction work begun on the three-story brick business building which J. D. Jaynes is having erected at Grand avenue and Whitaker street. Jaynes is also erecting several modern bungalows for rental purposes. Owing to the sudden increase in population since the remarkable oil developments in this vicinity it is almost impossible for the people to secure lodging. A modern apartment-house will be erected within a short time and the building activities are the greatest in years. Several new business enterprises have opened during the past fortnight.

ROYALTY SUMMONED TO COMMON DIVORCE COURT

Europe has a law case such as is not seen in a generation. Royalty has actually been summoned to an ordinary divorce court. The Grand Duchess Pavlovna, cousin of the Czar of Russia, and wife of Prince Wilhelm, second son of the King of Sweden, has been notified to appear in the Court of Assizes at Stockholm. She is now in St. Petersburg.

She will there have to answer a charge of having deserted her husband. Divorce proceedings between the royal couple have been in progress for some time.

Prince Wilhelm, who is now shooting in Uganda, is not expected to return to Sweden before the end of April.

The grand duchess is a daughter of the Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovitch.

She is now in her twenty-fourth year. Her husband is in his thirtieth year and the marriage took place in 1908. They have one son, Prince Lennart, born in 1909.

Witnesses are to be heard by the Court of Assizes and the suit will be fought in the usual way. It was at one time thought possible to arrange a divorce without these formalities, but the Swedish law makes no exception in the case of royalties. The date of the hearing has not yet been fixed.

CONVENTION OF CALIFORNIA FRUIT GROWERS, UNIVERSITY FARM, AT DAVIS, JUNE 1 TO 6

The next State Fruit Growers' convention will be held at the University Farm, Davis, California, during the first week in June. The meeting will be under the joint auspices of the State Commission of Horticulture and the Yolo County Board of Trade. By devoting an entire week to the meeting it is hoped to obviate the objection which has been raised to recent conventions, namely, that the time available has been too short for full discussion of the many interesting topics presented in the program. At this coming convention the following types or series of meetings will be presented.

Consecutive lectures, to be given one each day during the week, upon some of the fundamental operations and considerations of fruit growing. For instance, as will be seen in the program, there will be given each morning during the hour from 8 to 9, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, a lecture on the general subject, "Information for New Settlers." This series will be in charge of Dean Thomas Forsyth Hunt, of the College of Agriculture. At the same time there will also be going on a series of lectures on "Irrigation," under the direction of Professor B. A. Etcheverry, a series on "Insect Pests," arranged by Mr. R. S. Vale. During the hour from 9:30 to 10:30 and again from 11 to 12 other subjects will be taken up, as shown in the program. Dr. C. B. Lipman will be in charge of "Soil Handling and Fertilization." Mr. G. Harold Powell will arrange a series on "Co-operation in Horticultural Operations," and other subjects will be equally well provided for. Of particular interest will be the lecture at 11 o'clock each day on "Methods of Marketing." On Tuesday, Mr. Dargitz, of the Cured Fruit Association, will present the methods of that organization, and on the following days at the same hour representatives of the other organizations mentioned will present their methods. In the series on "Utilization of Surplus and Waste Fruit," a lecture will be given each day upon such subjects as Vinegar Making, Preparations of Unfermented Fruit Juices, Home Canning, and other similar subjects. In the afternoon the program shows for each day a lecture upon "Opportunities for Women in Horticulture." At each of these exercises the speaker will be a woman who has made a particular success of some practical branch of fruit growing, explaining her methods and results.

Considering now the program in the other direction, it will be noted that on Tuesday a meeting or conference on "Apple Culture" will commence at 8 a.m. and continue each hour throughout the forenoon, while in the afternoon the subject of "Coding Moth" is scheduled for the whole time between 1:30 and 5. This will be for people who are more in-

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept Her Locks Dark, Thick, Glossy, With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.—Advertisement.

interested in the culture of this fruit than in any other subject. Papers will be presented by growers and other competent speakers upon the culture of the apple in our most important problems of the industry. At the same time there will be ample time for discussion, so that the apple growers will have upon this day a little convention of their own. On the afternoon of the following day will be found scheduled a similar conference of pear growers, discussing the particular subject of "Pear Blight." All our other important fruits are similarly provided for on various days and an effort will be made in the final program to avoid conflict of similar interests, so far as possible. The schedule on Thursday has been made of particular interest to fruit packers and shippers, as will be seen in consulting the program for that day. Special sessions have been provided for the Grange and the Farmers' Union, and such organizations as the Cannerymen's League, Nurserymen's Association, Horticultural Journalists, commission men, realty men, fertilizer dealers, manufacturers of spray materials and apparatus, and all other interests closely connected with horticulture will be invited to attend and co-operate in the meetings.

The important subject of "The Eight-Hour Labor Law" will receive much consideration, a conference extending through one entire day being devoted to this subject, during which time many able speakers will be heard.

During the evening some particularly interesting speakers will be heard upon topics of general interest, and prominent men from all over the United States will be brought in for this purpose.

The main object of the whole convention will be to provide practical and thoroughly up-to-date information for both new settlers and experienced growers, with plenty of time for discussions. In the final program each exercise will bear a specific title and the name of the leading speaker. Among these speakers will be found many of our most successful practical men and women growers, as well as experts in various lines from the State University, State Horticultural Commission, and County Horticultural Commissioners. Since more than 150 separate lectures are to be delivered, it will manifestly be impossible for one person to attend them all.

It is expected that the usual railroad rates will be obtained for this convention and living expenses will be reduced to a minimum. The University Farm School will provide accommodations at $2 per day for meals and room, or $1.00 per day for meals and cot. Attention is also called to the excellent opportunities for camping at the Farm, making it possible for fruit growers to come with their families in automobiles or otherwise and camp upon the grounds during the session of the convention. A most enjoyable outing can thus be obtained, accompanied by the benefits afforded by the convention.
